History of the Piggy Bank Beauty Contest

The Idaho Financial Literacy Coalition started the Piggy Bank Beauty Contest in 2010 after the president at the time went to the National Jump$tart Coalition State Leaders training in Washington DC. While there she had learned that other state coalitions were doing this and were very successful in promoting financial literacy and helping children to develop smart saving habits early. In past years the Coalition has given $50 awards to 4 students and to the teacher of the winning students.

Since 2016, IDEal - Idaho 529 College Savings Program has been our sponsor, giving a $75.00 scholarship to each winner to start saving for college. This means the Coalition and Sponsors have donated over $2300.00 to students and teachers in Idaho!

Each year we celebrate in the Governor's ceremonial office where the students are presented with their awards.

The IDEal – Idaho 529 College Savings Program would like to award the scholarship to the winners within 14 days from when they are notified. This requires opening an IDEal - Idaho 529 College Savings account to receive funding.
